MEETING ADJOURNED
When you consider what’s riding on your roads, there’s no question about the materials you need to build them. Innovative, sustainable and built to last. Say farewell to anything less. Find out more at ErgonAsphalt.com.

Providing innovative resources that drive people forward.
Congress unanimously agreed to remove regulatory burdens on selection of culvert pipe materials. Individual states can choose which pipe suits their needs. Engineers, not lawmakers, can make informed choices.

An overwhelming majority of states approve of the new provision. Understanding MAP-21.

CORRUGATED PLASTIC PIPE. PROVEN THE BEST CHOICE.

100 Year Service Life
Superior abrasion and corrosion resistance, and water-tight joint performance

Ease of Installation
Lightweight, longer pipe lengths, simplified joining, and jobsite compatibility

Globally Accepted
Tested and proven as a reliable drainage and sewer system solution

Greater Cost Efficiencies
Lower installed cost requiring less labor and equipment

The world has changed immensely since 3M installed the first fully reflective traffic sign in 1939, but our technology leadership and commitment to traffic safety is as strong as ever. With the introduction of such groundbreaking innovations as the first durable fluorescent signs, all-weather pavement markings and optimal performance “full cube” reflective sheeting, 3M has proven its commitment time and again to making roadways safer. We think that’s something to celebrate.

Visit 3M.com/roadwaysafety to see how far we’ve come in 75 years of traffic safety innovation.

Epoxy-Coated Reinforcing Steel

A Better Product Using 40 Years of Improved Manufacturing and Coating Technologies.

Epoxy-coated reinforcing steel has been used extensively in the USA, Canada, Japan, China, India and the Middle East. It has been used in over 80,000 bridge decks covering 900,000,000 ft² in the USA alone.
You’re determined to build a stronger community.

We’re determined to deliver solutions that help you do it.

For more than a century, EJ has helped communities like yours maintain a sustainable water, sewer and street infrastructure. We’ve done it with unparalleled customer service, innovative products and a deep understanding of your local needs.
